DOG COLLARS

Durable Webbing: Premium polyester webbing is more resistant to mold and mildew than nylon and will not weaken when wet or fade in the sunlight.

Stronger Buckle: Premium Duraflex® buckle and triglide are made from acetal, which is stronger than nylon and won't rust like metal buckles to when exposed to salt water.

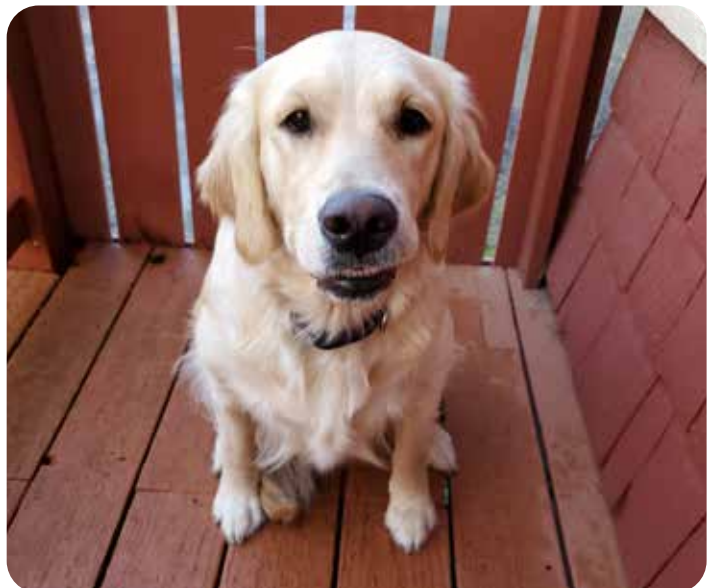

Three Webbing Widths: We offer three widths of webbing, 1" and 3/4" for our standard and martingale dog collars and 3/8" for our cat collars.

100% Made in the USA: Every piece of the collar, from the webbing to the thread to the buckles to the printing, is made in the USA using US-made parts.

STANDARD COLLAR

Our standard collars are made from printed polyester webbing with Duraflex acetal Weinerlock buckles, Duraflex acetal triglides for length adjustability, Duraflex strap keepers, and metal D-rings.

Six sizes mean these collars will fit most dogs, from the very smallest to the very largest. (We have yet to find a dog too big for our XL.)

Like all of our collars, these are 100% made in the USA from US-made materials and available in all designs.

DOG COLLAR SIZES

XS - 8-12" long and 3/4" wide

S - 10-14" long and 3/4" wide

FAMOUS ARTIST DESIGNS

JOHN JAMES AUDUBON

John James Audubon (April 26, 1785 – January 27, 1851) was an American ornithologist and painter. His combined interests in art and ornithology turned into a plan to make a complete pictorial record of all the bird species of North America. His major work, a color-plate book entitled The Birds of America (1827–1839), is considered one of the finest ornithological works ever completed. Audubon is also known for having identified 25 new species. He is the namesake of the National Audubon Society.

JAPANESE UKIYO-E ARTISTS

Utagawa Hiroshige (1797 – 12 October 1858) was a Japanese ukiyo-e artist, considered the last great master of that tradition.

Hiroshige's work came to have a marked influence on western European painting towards the close of the 19th century as a part of the trend in Japonism. Western European artists, such as Manet and Monet, collected and closely studied Hiroshige's compositions. Vincent van Gogh even went so far as to paint copies of two of Hiroshige's prints from One Hundred Famous Views of Edo.

Katsushika Hokusai (31 October 1760 – 10 May 1849) was a Japanese artist, ukiyo-e painter and printmaker of the Edo period. Hokusai is best known for the woodblock print series Thirty-Six Views of Mount Fuji which includes the internationally iconic print The Great Wave off Kanagawa.

Hokusai's work transformed the ukiyo-e artform from a style of portraiture largely focused on courtesans and actors into a much broader style of art that focused on landscapes, plants, and animals. Innovative in his compositions and exceptional in his drawing technique, Hokusai is considered one of the greatest masters in the history of art.

LOUIS COMFORT TIFFANY

Louis Comfort Tiffany (February 18, 1848 – January 17, 1933) was an American artist and designer who worked in the decorative arts and is best known for his work in stained glass. He is the American artist most associated with the Art Nouveau and Aesthetic movements. Tiffany designed stained glass windows and lamps, glass mosaics, blown glass, ceramics, jewelry, enamels, and metalwork.

VINCENT VAN GOGH

Vincent Willem van Gogh (30 March 1853 – 29 July 1890) was a Dutch post-impressionist painter who posthumously became one of the most famous and influential figures in the history of Western art. He was not commercially successful, and his suicide at 37 came after years of mental illness, depression and poverty.

Van Gogh was unsuccessful during his lifetime, and he was considered a madman and a failure. He became famous after his suicide and exists in the public imagination as a misunderstood genius, the artist “where discourses on madness and creativity converge”. His reputation began to grow in the early 20th century as elements of his painting style came to be incorporated by the Fauves and German Expressionists. He attained widespread critical, commercial and popular success over the ensuing decades, and he is remembered as an important but tragic painter, whose troubled personality typifies the romantic ideal of the tortured artist. Today, Van Gogh’s works are among the world’s most expensive paintings to have ever sold.

ABSTRACT DESIGNS

INDONESIAN IKAT

These designs are inspired by the Indonesian ikat dyeing technique used to pattern textiles by employing resist dyeing on the yarns prior to dyeing and weaving the fabric. In ikat, the resist is formed by binding individual yarns or bundles of yarns with a tight wrapping applied in the desired pattern. The yarns are then dyed. The bindings may then be altered to create a new pattern and the yarns dyed again with another colour. This process may be repeated multiple times to produce elaborate, multicolored patterns. When the dyeing is finished all the bindings are removed and the yarns are woven into cloth.

CAMOFLAUGE

When the subject of camouflage designs first came up in one of our team design meetings, our lead designer objected to the idea of pink camo. “What, the dog will be invisible at a Valentine’s Day party?” Now that would be awesome. Nonetheless, people seem to really like our camouflage designs.

ABOUT BUTTONSMITH

How We Began

Buttonsmith®, Inc. began out of a fourth grade class project on trading Henry completed in 2013 when he was a student at Fall City Elementary in Fall City, Washington. Faced with the challenge of making something to trade at a school trading post, he rejected baked goods (“Mo-o-o-om, the baked goods market will be totally oversaturated!”) and instead made pinback buttons to sell to his classmates. His dyslexia had made success in school a real challenge up to that point, so when his products took off he was thrilled!

That summer, Henry moved to selling his products at local farmers markets. In 2014 Henry moved online to sell his products via his website and Amazon. The product catalog grew to include buttons, magnets, lanyards, fixed top badge reels, patented Tinker Reel® badge reels, signage, banners, printed items, and pet products.

In 2018 when Henry was 14 years old, he was named to the Forbes 30 Under 30 list for his work at Buttonsmith.

As Buttonsmith has grown, Henry has hired adult employees to help and is now up to fourteen employees. In order to facilitate the kind of highly customizable manufacturing Buttonsmith specializes in, we have developed a suite of proprietary software for product personalization and manufacturing.

Socially Responsible, Union Shop, Environmentally Friendly

We are a 100% union shop affiliated with the International Union of Painters and Allied Trades (IUPAT), which is part of the AFL-CIO. We use environmentally-friendly materials and labor-friendly practices to make our products.
